

Jean Paul Fermand

Jean Paul Fermand is Professor of Clinical Immunology at the School of Medicine of the University Paris VII and the Department of Immuno-Hematology at Hospital Saint Louis in Paris, France. He was also Head of the Immuno-Hematology unit at Hospital Saint Louis until 2015.

Professor Fermand's main area of expertise and fields of interest are monoclonal gammopathies and related disorders and he has published widely in the area. In addition to clinical studies, he conducts biological research program in the Inserm Unit U 1126. He was the main organizer of the International Myeloma Workshop in Paris in 2011. He is at the head of the Foundation for Research against myeloma and gammopathies (FFRMG) that he created late 2011. He is also the current president of the Intergroup Francophone du Myélome (IFM).